Delphi Technology, Inc. Announces Michael Ferioli has Joined the Company as IT Director

Boston, MA – April 11, 2011 – Delphi Technology, Inc., an established provider of technology solutions to the professional liability insurance market, announced today that Michael Ferioli has joined the company as IT Director, reporting to Jason Potosky, Delphi Technology's Executive Vice President of US Operations and Chief Technology Officer. In his new position, Michael will have overall responsibility for technology and infrastructure used to support Delphi's hosted products, internal development activities and internal corporate communications.

Commenting on Michael's appointment, Jason Potosky said, "I am pleased to announce the addition of Michael to the Delphi IT team. In addition to his extensive technology and financial services expertise, Michael offers a wealth of hands on and management experience across a broad spectrum of technologies, including; networks, security, servers, virtualization and databases."

Potosky continued, "The breadth and depth of Michael's skill and experience are an outstanding contribution to our organization and management team."

Bill Moss, President and COO of U.S. Operations adds, "Michael brings an excellent blend of technical and business acumen that will be invaluable to Delphi's ongoing mission to expand its software as a service delivery model and data-driven risk management services from the cloud."

Prior to joining Delphi Technology, Michael most recently served as Network Manager with the Federal Reserve System in Boston where he led a team of senior architects in the design of the network conversion strategy. Earlier in his career, he spent 15 years in a variety of professional technology positions throughout Europe and Australia and is ITILv3 certified. In addition to his professional experience, he holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute and is currently completing his Executive MBA at Boston University.
