

Trinisys Expands Partnership with Delphi Technology, Inc.

Brentwood TN, July 13, 2016 – Trinisys LLC, is expanding their partnership with Delphi Technology, Inc., the recognized leader in technology solutions for medical professional liability insurance and an emerging provider of technology solutions for property and casualty insurance, by expanding their Delphi eApp offering to include white label Convergence capabilities.

“Delphi has had excellent success within our customer base with the initial Delphi eApp product offering. With the newly announced broadening of the Delphi – Trinisys relationship, we are excited to bring the additional capabilities of Trinisys to enable added benefits for our customers via Delphi Confluence”, said John J. Flavin, Senior Vice President and Chief Business Development Officer, Delphi Technology.

The new expanded service will enable all of the powerful Trinisys Convergence integration capabilities as well as data capture. This will allow customers to realize even more ROI by automating manual processes, streamlining workflows and enabling seamless integrations across a broader scope of business processes.

“Trinisys is enthusiastic about this new collaboration with Delphi Technology to expand the Delphi eApp capabilities into Delphi Confluence,” said Antoine Agassi, CEO Trinisys. “We are confident this strategic expansion will help customers gain value and the option to have access to all the capabilities Delphi Confluence can offer.”
